Welcome!

Welcome to the 123rd Western Amateur Championship, and the seventh edition of the Women's Western Amateur Records & Statistics Guide, as the championship comes to White Eagle Golf Club for the first time.

For well over a century, the Women's Western Amateur has provided some of the best competition in golf, amateur or professional.

The Guide, a work in progress, allows reporters covering the Women's Western Am the ability to more easily compare current achievements to those of the past. It draws on research conducted by delving into old newspaper files, both local and national, along with coverage in magazines, online, and from the WWGA Annual. Key results from many years from 1981 to 1998, plus some supplemental material from other years, is expected to be recovered by 2024 from an ongoing project of scanning in long-untouched WWGA records from the beginning. Several years of qualifying scores have been recovered this year.

Details on some courses and field sizes from various years remain to be found, but no other women's amateur championship has such an in-depth resource.

The goal is to have similar in-depth coverage for every playing of the Women's Western Am. The expansion of the match play field to 64 players in 1975 coincided with a lessening of interest by newspapers in printing extensive agate for women's amateur golf, sometimes even in the city the Championship was played in. Much is in hand, but the search for those records, especially for the 1990s, continues.

The Guide is in three sections covering 268 pages.

Part 1, which is 19 pages, begins with a short directory of players whose marriage caused a name change in contemporary coverage; the listing here in the year-by-year report is their name at the time; in the alphabetical register, their complete record is under their most recent name, with a cross-index reference at their maiden name. Following is the Women's Western Am in brief, a short history of the WWGA's founding, then championship records, and a chart detailing the many players who have advanced to the Sweet Sixteen and gone on to win professional major championship. Earlier this month, Allisen Corpuz, a two-time Sweet Sixteener, won the United States Women's Open, bringing that total to 122 majors captured by Sweet Sixteen qualifiers since the first women's pro major, the Women's Western Open, in 1930.

Part 2, which is 163 pages, is the year-by-year, match-by-match coverage of the Championship through 2022. Stroke-play scores of non-qualifiers are included beginning 2019, and will be expanded.

Part 3, which is 85 pages, is the Player Register, covering over 1,100 players advancing to match play through 1980, 1982, and 2011-2022. It will be noted that the career amateurs, thanks to their longevity on the amateur scene, own most of the records, but since the 1960s, college players – and a few younger – have garnered the great majority of the championships.

We invite your thoughts on corrections and improvements to the Guide, and hope you find it useful.

What Was Her Name Again?

One of the great problems in creating a comprehensive register of players in the Women's Western Amateur was the great institution of marriage. At least, the long tradition of taking the husband's last name, and the similar tradition of newspapers then referring to the player by the husband's name, caused a disconnect in the career records of many players. Through long hours going through records and the occasional story that mentioned, usually in the first year of the marriage, who was actually who, more than 110 players have had their careers put in perspective. Here's a list of who's who in that regard, with the name being used in this record book (on this list, the maiden and married name is separated by a slash if both are used, or in parentheses if not commonly used) plus the player's married name, more often seen in the WWGA Annual and newspaper coverage of the day.

Some match results and details such as home towns are missing from 1981 to 2010, as is some stroke-play round scoring through 2018. In some cases, the WWGA records are incomplete; in others, the coverage of that year has not been unearthed. The search continues. Once all matches are accounted for, the player register, in progress for several years, will be completed.

The founding of the WWGA

BY TIM CRONIN

It's one of those oddities that makes no sense at all until it's explained.

The Women's Western Amateur Championship, the oldest annually-played championship in golf, is two years older than the sponsor, the Women's Western Golf Association.

How can this be? Shouldn't the mother precede the daughter?

Normally, yes, but the early years of golf in this country were chaotic in every category. Innovation was well ahead of organization on the leaderboard. Ideas outran formality time and again. The usual order hadn't been put in order yet.

In this case, the daughter was adopted. A century ago, the Women's Western Am was started not by the WWGA, but by the WGA, the Western Golf Association.

In 1901, when it wasn't unusual to see someone riding a horse through the Loop, caddie-scholars were decades away and the Western Open was not much more than an afterthought. It hadn't even been held in 1900, the WGA's second year.

The focus of the WGA's activities was on amateur golf, and that, at the suggestion of W.A. Alexander on a summery Friday, would soon include women's golf.

It was Alexander, a notable at Exmore Country Club, who stood up and put forward the idea of a Western Women's Amateur Championship at a WGA meeting on August 16, 1901. The WGA board members could barely suppress a yawn.

"No official action was taken on the offer," the Chicago Tribune reported the following morning. "It was, however, the consensus of opinion among the directors present that if the Onwentsia club would allow the competition for the Governor's Cup to be designated as the official Western women's championship it would satisfactorily settle the matter."

In other words, a women's championship would be fine, if someone else would run it.

Alexander was hoping for something more than that, but Onwentsia was game, and Alexander went shopping for a trophy.

Thus, the first Western Women's Amateur Championship, played for the W.A. Alexander Cup, was also the sixth Governor's Cup. Actually, it was vice versa. The Governor's Cup, which dated to Onwentsia's opening season of 1896, was already considered not only the unofficial championship of women's golf in the west – west of the Allegheny Mountains – but also second only to the USGA Women's Amateur, a year older than the Governor's Cup, in prestige.

That history and the addition of the WGA's title meant a large turnout, and 66 players out of an entry list of 77 teed it up on Wednesday, September 25, 1901.

Among those in the field was Maude Alexander, W.A. Alexander's wife. One of the finer female players in the area, she trailed the 96 posted by medalist J. Anna "Johnnie" Carpenter of Westward Ho by five strokes in the 18-hole qualifying round, but easily made the elite match play field.

It was truly an elite eight. Bessie Anthony, the defending Governor's Cup winner, was in it, along with Rose Chatfield-Taylor, the wife of Hobart C. Chatfield-Taylor, the WGA's first president. Both were rated as scratch players, and likely were the only women in the Chicago area with that distinction in 1901. Anthony defeated Alexander in the semifinals, a 7 and 6 rout.

In doing so, Anthony lowered the women's course record to 91. That was amazing considering, first, the equipment of the time was barely less primitive than what had been used in Scotland 100 years before, and second, everyone played in a long skirt and a corset.

Anthony scored a 3 and 1 victory over Rose Chatfield-Taylor for the title on September 28, 1901, an outcome never really in doubt. She won the first and fourth holes, and Chatfield-Taylor was never able to square the match.

The affair was judged to be "a thorough success," the Tribune opined the next morning, though it didn't go off without incident. The quartet which advanced to Friday's semifinals had originally been paired incorrectly, the result of the club's Solomon Sturges going back to the qualifying scores, rather than using a standard match-play bracket.

No WGA officials were on hand, but Dr. J.E. Nyman of Westward Ho, about to cheer on Carpenter, caught the error before the first match. Chatfield-Taylor scored a 6 and 4 win over Carpenter anyway.

Aside from that, the Western Women's Amateur Championship was off and running. It would be held at Onwentsia in association with the Governor's Cup again in 1902.

The result would be the same. Anthony scored a record 89 in the qualifying round and never needed to tee it up on the 15th hole until the final, when Maude Alexander threw a major scare at her.

Alexander, trying to win the trophy her husband donated, led 1 up at the turn and was 2 up via a 6 at the 10th after her approach stopped four feet from the cup. Anthony, playing slightly more steady golf, won the 12th and 13th holes to square the match, then played a 90-yard mashie to within eight feet of the pin on the 17th. She missed the putt for a 4, but the 5 was good enough for a 1-up lead going to the last. When Alexander could do no better than a 4 for a halve of the hole, Anthony was the champion again.

As a three-time winner, she gained permanent possession of Onwentsia's Governor's Cup. As the only Western Women's champion in the first two years, she earned plaudits as the "best in the west."

Amazingly, the wrong match play pairings were made for the second year running. This time, it was because WGA secretary Ed Martin left the club early. Once again, they were corrected, but it was clear that the organization of the championship left something to be desired.

Meanwhile, Onwentsia decided to run the Governor's Cup as a solo operation for 1903. The WGA, an all-volunteer body, would have to run a fourth tournament during the year, to go along with the Western Open, Western Amateur and Marshall Field Trophy matches.

Martin, having ascended to the WGA's presidency in 1903, might well have taken the Western Women's Amateur completely under the group's wing, but wanted to do more. Martin laid the groundwork for the formation of the Women's Western Golf Association. Martin asked Jessie Brower of the Edgewater Golf Club to poll the players in the Midlothian women's championship. Brower received positive responses and Martin called a meeting of interested parties for 3 p.m. Tuesday, June 30, 1903, at the Wellington Hotel.

Mrs. L.C. Wachsmuth of the Washington Park Golf Club, then a leading club, moved for "an organization to be formed of western women golfers."

"Forty-one enthusiastic women," crowded the Inter Ocean the next morning, were on hand from 21 clubs to applaud Wachsmuth's call to action. "It is the intention of the new league to hold a championship each year, open only to members."

The WWGA was born. Fittingly, Bessie Anthony won the retitled Women's Western Amateur, which has been played every year since.

Today, the WGA assists the WWGA in running its Amateur and Junior, the two groups on friendly terms.

The Sweet Sixteen and the Majors

Advancing to the Sweet Sixteen of the Women's Western Amateur signifies an elite accomplishment. It also denotes a player with the potential of winning professional major championships. Since the Women's Western Open was created in 1930, 37 players advancing to the Sweet Sixteen have won 122 major professional championships. (Another eight match-play qualifiers have won 14 additional majors for a total of 136.) Through the 2023 U.S. Women's Open Championship, here are the professional major champions first tested in the Sweet Sixteen of the Women's Western Am:

Szeryk does Canada proud in thriller over Kim

Maddie Szeryk had one critical edge over Dylan Kim in the stellar championship match of the 117th Women's Western Amateur. When she absolutely needed to, Szeryk could summon a solid approach or sink a big putt.

That was evident several times in the course of the double-round match, and enabled her to close out Kim by a 3 and 1 margin. While Kim missed the green of the 526-yard par 5 with her third shot, Szeryk was able to drill an approach to about 16 feet and calmly two-putt for the victory, Kim missing her 15-foot par-saver.

Szeryk, a 21-year-old dual citizen who registered from London, Ont., but calls Allen, Tex. home and will be a senior at Texas A&M in the fall, led by as much as 4 up.

Hoffman routs Nowlin in final on testing Mistwood layout

BY TIM CRONIN

REPORTING FROM ROMEVILLE,
ILLINOIS

Emilee Hoffman opened the 118th championship match of the Women's Western Amateur with an unusual eagle 2. The California-based Texas Longhorn ended it with a 35-foot birdie putt that never wavered from its target.

That putt, her ninth birdie of the day, brought her an 8 and 7 victory over Tristyn Nowlin of Richmond, Ky., and the Illinois golf team, in the double-round final.

She didn't know it. So focused was Hoffman, she began to walk off the green to Mistwood Golf Club's 12th tee until referee CeCe Durbin announced the outcome.

"I thought we had one more hole," Hoffman said. "I had no idea."

That's focus. Hoffman all but had blinders on in the course of her dissection of Nowlin, a friend from junior golf and even now an occasional foe on the college scene. She hit fairway after fairway, green after green, and made putts from near and far in the course of not only Saturday's final, but the entire week. She started with a 7-under-par 65 in the first round of stroke-play qualifying to match the course and Women's Western Am 18-hole records, and then had seven birdies in Saturday morning's 18.

Add in the opening deuce and Hoffman posted the match play equivalent of a 64 en route to her 7-up advantage at lunchtime. In other words, Hoffman was the windshield and Nowlin was the bug.

The Women's Western is second in American amateur golf only to the U.S. Women's Amateur, with a glittering list of champions. The last three to pull off the medalist-champion double before Hoffman are Stacy Lewis (2006), Ariya Jutanugarn (2012) and Mika Liu (2014). The first two of those three have gone on to capture major championships.

"I don't even know how to describe it," Hoffman said after posing for photos with the W.A. Alexander Cup. "I was talking early in the week about how prestigious this event is. It's just truly an honor. I'm still in shock."

Her future is bright, especially when her putting is on. She said her game is from tee to green – and that, like her efficiently simple swing, was tremendous – but nine birdies in 29 holes always works. Among the highlights was a stretch of three straight birdies in the morning – a 20-footer on the 11th, a three-footer on the 12th and a 15-footer on the 13th – and a 20-footer for a three on the par-4 10th hole in the afternoon. That got her back to 7-up, and the downhill 35-footer on the next green finished off the match.

"I've struggled with my putting for the last year," Hoffman said. "I've worked on it once I got back from college, and it feels so good to see some of the hard work starting to pay off."

Nowlin was gracious, saying "If you had told me at the beginning of the week I'd make it to the final match, I'd be perfectly fine with that."

Things went off the beam from the start. Her tee shot on the first hole went wild and she conceded the hole before Hoffman had to hit her second shot. That went down as a 2 on the card for the par-4. Nowlin won the second hole with a birdie – one of two for her in the match – but never really got untracked.

"Today, I really don't know what it was," Nowlin said. "I wasn't really catching them solid. I'd hit a couple left, a couple right. And Emilee is such a great player, she never got herself out of position. Maybe she was out of position once. But that's golf. That's how it goes."

"The tough part was, when I'm not comfortable with my swing, I won't hit aggressive shots. I'll play the safe shot. But I got down so much, I was forced to hit aggressive shots. The execution just wasn't there."

Hoffman, from Folsom, Calif., scored a 6 and 5 victory over Brigitte Thibault of Quebec City, in the Friday morning quarterfinal, then beat Katharine Patrick of West University Place, Tex., 1 up in the semifinal, surviving the steambath that Mistwood is on a hot afternoon.

Nowlin scored a 3 and 2 quarterfinal victory over Mokena's Brienne Bolden, the last Illinois player in the field, and beat Ellie Szeryk of Allen, Tex., and Uxbridge, Ont., 2 and 1 in her semifinal.

Hoffman will be a junior at Texas in the fall, and already has an all-Big 12 team honor to her credit. She was also part of the winning team in the 2017 World University Games.

Nowlin was an all-Big Ten second team selection as a sophomore this season, and scored the second-best season average (72.59) in Fighting Illini women's golf history. Her best finish was a tie for second in the MountainView Collegiate in March.

Around Mistwood: Both players had their fathers as caddies. Phil Nowlin is a maintenance worker at a Toyota plant in Kentucky, while Jeff Hoffman has enough time off from his job to be a scratch golfer as well. He's Emilee's swing coach, and almost couldn't caddie for her. Only losing in the sectional qualifying playoff for the U.S. Senior Open, being held this week in Colorado Springs, got him on the bag for his daughter. ... Both players will be juniors in college in the fall. Hoffman, from Folsom, Calif., vows to stay in college before giving the LPGA a shot, which bodes well for a defense of her title at a Chicago-area site yet to be determined in 2019.

Shipley beats the heat, races to victory

BY TIM CRONIN
 REPORTING FROM LONG GROVE,
 ILLINOIS

A big-time championship isn't usually decided on the eighth hole of the final match, but it felt that way Saturday, July 20, when Sarah Shipley rolled in a 21-foot uphill birdie putt for a 3-up lead on Antonio Matte at Royal Melbourne Country Club with the Women's Western Amateur title on the line.

Shipley, the fifth seed, hammered the putt home after third-seeded Matte had missed from about 35 feet on the par 3.

She increased the margin to 4 up by winning the ninth hole with a par, and kept the pressure on by halving the 12th and 13th with par-saving putts of 12 and 15 feet.

"There were a couple of breaks I got," said Shipley, who thought the putts were closer to 30 feet. Pressure created odd visions at times, but she saw the center of the cup clearly all the way.

"Those were a little stressful, but I got the job done," Shipley said. "I was feeling really confident, just trying to get out ahead early."

The 119th championship match ended on the green of the par-5 15th hole. Shipley hit her third shot to four feet below the hole, and after Matte missed her birdie opportunity from about 12 feet, conceded the birdie to Shipley and shook her hand, setting the margin at 5 and 3.

Shipley adds her name to a glittering century-plus list of champions, including Ariya Jutanugarn, Stacy Lewis and Nancy Lopez. After the award ceremony, Shipley studied the trophy and the names on it carefully.

"It means a lot," Shipley said. "It was a really tough competition. It was never easy at all. I had to grind the whole time. It tested my mental and physical game with all the heat.

"It makes me feel good about my game but also shows I can improve it more."

Shipley hit most of the fairways and greens she looked at in the final two matches and made the requisite par-saving putts, along with the birdies. If there's room for improvement, only a perfectionist could find it.

Entering her senior year at Kentucky, 21-year-old Shipley didn't give Matte, a 16-year-old from Santiago, Chile, a chance, winning the first two holes with birdies to take command. From then on, the heat was on Matte even more than the heat index of 108 beating down on the players and the gallery.

"She played very well this afternoon with me," Matte said. "She's a nice champion."

Shipley advanced via a 2 and 1 semifinal victory over Maria Bohorquez of Colombia, going 2-up on the 13th hole with a par and halving the next four holes, while Matte beat Brooke Tyree of Sulphur, La., 4 and 3 in the other semifinal.

"I made a few important putts in the morning," Matte said. "This afternoon, I missed a few birdies."

Thibault shows toughness in semifinal, rolls through final

BY TIM CRONIN
REPORTING FROM FRANKFORT, ILLINOIS

That the mastery of golf is a fool's wish was proven again on the morning of July 25 at Prestwick Country Club in Frankfort. The day before, Jackie Lucena of Chico, Calif., could do no wrong in routing her semifinal opponent by a 7 and 6 margin.

One sunrise later, she had to work for everything she got. It wasn't enough to overcome Brigitte Thibault of Rosemere, Quebec, who scored a 4 and 3 victory in the championship match of the 120th Women's Western Amateur on a sunny Saturday to take the crown back to Canada for the second time in four years.

Thibault, who never trailed, broke open the tight match by winning the 13th and 14th holes with pars and the 15th with a clinching birdie 4 to earn the right to lift the W.A. Alexander Cup.

The native of suburban Montreal, too, suffered from the vagaries of the game. It took her 21 holes to oust her semifinal foe on Friday, and she led 2 up after seven holes against Lucena, but a combination of bogey and double-bogey on the eighth and ninth holes brought Lucena back to square the match. The back nine on Saturday would decide it.

"I didn't want to get my hopes up, because I know that my game right now is kind of on a rollercoaster," Thibault said. "I feel like I gained a lot of momentum from yesterday. I just kept the faith. I kept fighting and didn't give up."

Thibault parred No. 10, taking the lead when Lucena couldn't save par. A change in attitude also helped.

"I think it was just like a switch," Thibault said. "I had missed a lot on the front, and I could feel how close I was to hitting it really good. I just switched it in my head and went into full focus mode."

She had plenty of previous successes to draw on. The 21-year-old Fresno State senior had won the Mountain West Conference title and the Ontario Women's Amateur in 2019, and was part of Canada's bronze medal team at the 2019 Pan American Games in Peru.

Scoring par at No. 13 to Lucena's bogey and par at No. 14 to Lucena's double-bogey moved Thibault 2 up with four holes to play. The birdie on the 15th settled things.

In contrast to Friday's semifinal romp, Lucena, a sophomore at California-Davis, never was better than level with Thibault.

"It was definitely a grind," Lucena said. "I wasn't having my best game. I was just trying to roll with what I had, and it ended up not working out.

"I definitely realized that I wasn't as free and as comfortable as in my previous rounds. Besides today, I felt phenomenal this week."

Such is golf. Just in making the final, she and Thibault were awarded exemptions to the U.S. Women's Amateur at Woodmont Country Club in Rockville, Md. Thibault was already in the field on her world ranking, but Lucena made her first USGA appearance.

"I had a lot of confidence in my game coming into this, and I think I wavered a little bit (in the final match) when I hit some bad shots," Lucena said. "I was just so excited to make it to the finals."

Thibault figures to go to the LPGA Tour eventually. Lucena might end up there also.

The semifinals were contrasts in style. While Lucena had a cakewalk in beating Chelsea Dantonio, Thibault had her hands full with Sophie Burks of Tallahassee, Ala.

It wasn't until Burks rinsed her tee shot on the 21st hole that the outcome became clear. Burks couldn't salvage par on the par-4, while Thibault two-putted for her 4.

Lucena's 7 and 6 dissection of Dantonio had her back at the clubhouse while the second semi was still on the 13th. The margin was the largest in a Women's Western Am semi since eventual winner Meredith Duncan's 6 and 5 romp over Katie Fitcher in 2000 at Flossmoor. Nobody had won a semi 7 and 6 since Phyllis Otto beat Georgia Tainter in 1944 at Onwentsia Club.

Wenzler triumphs in sudden-death battle

BY MATT HARNESSE
 REPORTING FROM PARK RIDGE, ILLINOIS

Moments after she won the final match to capture the 121st Women's Western Amateur Saturday, the emotions came rushing out of Marissa Wenzler.

The 20 year old from Dayton, Ohio, kept her composure all week, but she was unable to hold back following her victory in 20 holes over Maddison Hinson-Tolchard of Perth, Australia, at Park Ridge Country Club. Meredith Duncan was the most recent champion to triumph in extra holes, in 2001.

"This is one of the greatest wins for me," Wenzler said. "We grinded so hard all week, and everything all came out at once."

Wenzler, a junior at Kentucky, is the first medalist to win the Women's Western Amateur since Emilee Hoffman in 2018 at Mistwood Golf Club in Romeoville, Illinois. Wenzler joined former Kentucky teammate Sarah Shipley as a Women's Western Amateur champion. Shipley won in 2019.

"Shipley's the best," Wenzler said. "She's been so supportive and texted me this week and told me to get it done."

Wenzler, 3 up through four holes, led 2 up after an eagle on the par-5 15th. Just as she did earlier in the match, the 19-year-old Hinson-Tolchard rallied. The Oklahoma State sophomore evened the match by holing a 20-footer for birdie on No. 17. The players tied 18 with pars and No. 1 – the first extra hole – with bogeys. Wenzler made a 4-foot putt for par on No. 2 and watched as Hinson-Tolchard lipped out her par putt.

"We both were so nervous on the last several holes," Wenzler said. "But if you're not, you're not doing it right. That's why I play golf, to be in those situations and overcome them."

Wenzler's boyfriend, Conor Stoly, who is also from Dayton and is a sophomore at Ohio State, caddied for her all week – his first time on Wenzler's bag in competition.

"I was impressed with how she stayed calm in what was an extremely intense match," Stoly said. "She's taught me so much about golf."

Hinson-Tolchard pulled herself out of the early deficit by winning Nos. 9 and 10 and tied the match with a par at 13.

"I'm really proud of myself for not giving up and staying motivated," Hinson-Tolchard said. "I learned a lot about myself. I was glad I put myself in a position to win."

Added Wenzler, "She's a heck of a player, and I knew she wasn't going to be easy to beat. I was never too comfortable."

Wenzler came from behind to beat Jennifer Cleary of Wilmington, Del., 2 and 1, in the semifinals. Hinson-Tolchard scored a 2-up victory over India's Sifat Sagoo to advance in the semis.

Losing the first two holes to Cleary didn't bother Wenzler. She evened the match at No. 7 and was 1 up at the turn. After dropping the 10th, Wenzler grabbed a 2-up lead with pars on 11 and 12. She extended the advantage to 3 up after reaching the par-5 15th in two to card birdie.

"I was kind of annoyed going down early, but it wasn't that big of a deal," Wenzler said. "I tried to stay patient and take it one hole at a time."

Wenzler played 87 holes in the final three days, Hinson-Tolchard 84.

"I'm looking forward to some rest," Wenzler said.

Jerravitaporn rallies, cooks Pancake with back nine comeback

BY TIM CRONIN
REPORTING FROM NORTHFIELD,
ILLINOIS

Championships are lost as much as they're won, and Saturday's title match for the 122nd Women's Western Amateur crown is an excellent example.

Tagalo Jerravitaporn of Thailand, by way of Iowa State, was 3 down after only six holes of the 18-hole championship test at Sunset Ridge Country Club. Her fate seemed as dark as the storm clouds that rolled through just after dawn.

"I was chilling," Jerravitaporn said, comparing her first few holes to a practice round. "I couldn't concentrate that much. Then I realized I'm 3 down and only six holes, and I'm, 'I have to go, chop chop!'"

At that point, Annabelle Pancake, of Zionsville, Ind., by way of Clemson, was cruising. She'd won the first, fifth and sixth holes, sandwiching a birdie 2 on the par-3 fifth after dropping her tee shot five feet from the cup around two hole wins garnered by Jerravitaporn bogeys.

Pancake was still 3-up on the ninth tee. Then she drove into a fairway bunker. That led to a bogey and a 2-up advantage at the turn. And Jerravitaporn pounced.

"She missed a little bit," Jerravitaporn said. "She gave me a chance, and now I have to take it."

Jerravitaporn, a fifth-year senior in the fall, did so. She hit five of six fairways and every green on the inward nine on a breezy day. She ran down a 35-foot birdie putt to square the match on the par-4 12th – the only fairway she missed coming in. She calmly two-putted for par from 45 feet on the par-3 15th, where Pancake's major misread, thinking a flattish putt was uphill, caused her to gun her 25-footer six feet past the hole, from which she missed. That brought Jerravitaporn her first lead of the match.

Pancake's early brilliance wasn't duplicated later. Aside from nearly holing a bunker shot on the par-4 14th, knocking it to 18 inches for a halve, she was 3-over coming in.

"I wasn't as confident with my wedges and didn't make as many putts," Pancake said of her back nine. "On the 15th, the putt had way too much pace. I kinda got lost in the moment."

Two holes later, Jerravitaporn closed Pancake out, sinking a 10-footer for birdie, a 2-and-1 margin, and the title – her first since high school in Thailand.

"JJ hit some really awesome shots," Pancake said.

Jerravitaporn was the third seed after her 71-72-143 stroke play on the par 71 layout, compared to Pancake's 9-over 151 aggregate, which forced her into a nine-for-three playoff to make the 32-women match play field. Then Pancake, after a 2-and-1 victory over medalist Sadie Engelmann, went on a tear in match play, and didn't have another close match until Saturday.

Jerravitaporn had a couple of fourth-place finishes in college play the last two years, but no wins. Now, she's won one of big titles in world amateur golf, the result of a stronger mental attitude compared to a year ago, when she didn't make match play.

"Patience easily got me (before)," Jerravitaporn said. "Now when I play golf, I don't care about anything. If I lose, I lose. It's fine. (I had put) a lot of pressure on myself. Now, I just have to play my game. If I miss something, it's fine. Now I have a chance to get it back."
